RIMBAN’S MESSAGE

THOUGHTS ON FEEL GOOD BUDDHISM AND JODO SHINSHU

Although I take refuge in the Pure Land way,
It is hard to have a true and sincere mind,
This self is false and insincere;
I completely lack a pure mind.

Each of us, in outward bearing,
Makes a show of being wise,
good, and dedicated;
But so great are our greed, anger,
perversity, and deceit
That we are filled with all forms of malice and cunning.

Extremely difficult is it to put an end to our evil nature;
The mind is like a venomous snake or scorpion.
Our performance of good acts
is also poisoned;
Hence it is called false and empty practice.

On the front cover of the February 3, 2014 issue of TIME magazine, there is a young, beautiful, blond woman, with eyes closed meditating. The caption reads “The Mindful Revolution.” Turning to the article, the author writes about her short journey in meditation and mindfulness and how it transformed her to resist the urge to check her e-mail or Facebook on her cell phone while dinning at a restaurant. Of course I am being somewhat sarcastic, but in truth this is what many “night stand Buddhists” are searching for … how to deal with stress of everyday life.

Regarding the “seeker-friendly” approach … there’s no doubt that many schools of Buddhism use this approach, the Dalai Lama and Thich Nhat Hanh to name some of the more popular Buddhist leaders. Their feel-good approach seems to be reaching many westerners who are searching for something spiritual yet not religious – something to make them feel good yet not too critical of oneself. Many are curious about what Buddhism is and “what can it do for me”.

However, as we consider the narrative of the historical Shakyamuni Buddha, the goal of Siddhartha Gautama becoming enlightened was not to feel good, but to end suffering. If Siddhartha wanted to feel good, he would have never ventured out from the comfort of his father’s palace.

Likewise, Jodo Shinshu is not a warm “fuzzy-wuzzy” religion. It does not intend to make you feel good. Jodo Shinshu stresses the ego, the limitedness, and foolishness of human beings.

The reading I began with is from Shinran Shonin’s Shozomatsu Wasan, Hymns Of the Dharma Ages … Gutoku’s Hymns of Lament and Reflection. There are 16 verses of Shinran’s deep spiritual awakening to his true self.

Some people think that the teachings of Jodo Shinshu are pessimistic or negative because all we ministers ever talk about is how evil and...

MY ALTAR, MY SPIRITUAL HOME

by Rev. Koho Takata

On March 21st, the long awaited refurbished scrolls of Rennyo Shonin, Myonyo Shonin, and Seven Masters were returned to our temple from Kyoto, Japan. (Pictures on page 10)

The scrolls were granted to us by our mother temple, Hongwanji, in Kyoto, Japan and issued by the former Monshu Kosho Ohtani on August 12, 1969 just prior to the Dedication Ceremony for the installation of the new altar and completion of the construction of the present Betsuin temple. The commemoration service was held on November 16, 1969, and officiated by the former Monshu Kosho Ohtani. There were many dedicated members who made tremendous financial sacrifices to engage in their strong commitment to hand down the essential teaching of the Nembutsu to the the generations to come and spread the Buddha-Dharma to all.

The scroll of Rennyo Shonin was donated by Mr. Eiju Sasajima and the scrolls of Myonyo Shonin and Seven Masters were both donated by Mr. Masami Sasaki. Both donors were our Betsuin presidents. They have already passed on but I strongly believe that their founding spirit of the propagation of the Buddha-dharma is still alive today within our sangha and present Betsuin temple. On March 30th, we observed the Dedication Service for the refurbished scrolls and Kick-off Service for 50 Years at Present Betsuin Location to express our appreciation to the masters and teachers for enabling us to encounter the true teachings. Also to our forefathers for what they have left for us, which is not only the temple facility but, foremost, the essential teaching of the nembutsu. I was happy to have witnessed the many sangha members joyfully chanting the sutra and listening to the teachings on this occasion as we rededicate ourselves for renewing our commitment to walk the path of the nembutsu. Also to engage in our commitment to maintain and preserve our spiritual home which is represented by our temple altar and the temple facilities as our main commemoration project for 50 Years at Present Betsuin Location. It is my wish that each and every person who is able to participate in this once-in-a-life-time occasion becomes mindful of the intentions and efforts of our forefathers, carefully listens to the nembutsu teaching based on the Primal Vow of Amida Tathagata, and positively moves forward to realize and renew the true intent of establishment of this temple, LA Hompa Hongwanji Buddhist Temple, which is primarily a place for listening to the Primal Vow of Amida Tathagata. I hope each one of us as a sangha will further take on our pioneers’ Buddhist heritage as we move forth positively into a new history of the LA Hompa Hongwanji Buddhist Temple. I look forward to working with you for the future of our temple and Jodo Shinshu in the spirit of Oneness on the Nembutsu Teachings.

Such is the benevolence of Amida Buddha’s Great Compassion,
That we must strive to return it,
even to the breaking of our bodies;
Such is the benevolence of the masters and true teachers,
That we must endeavour to repay it,
even to our bones becoming dust.

MONPO — LISTEN TO THE DHARMA

by Rev. Kazuaki Nakata

As the marks of not apprehending Buddha’s wisdom:
People doubt the dharma which is known as Universal truth.

People believe in karma such as a good deed brings good fortune and a bad deed brings bad fortune.

People compete with how many times they recite the nembutsu, therefore they are missing the opportunity to be enlightened.

—“Gatha On the Offence of Doubting the Primal Vow”, by Shinran Shonin

In my previous article in the Jiho newsletter, I shared some stories of Ho On Ko, Shinran Shonin’s Memorial Service. Now we welcome the month of May. Time passes so swiftly!

During the month of May, we have another special service for Shinran Shonin. It is his birthday celebration service, Gotan-e. “Gotan” means “birth” and “e” means “gatherings”.

In Jodo Shin-shu, Gotan-e only means Shinran Shonin’s birthday celebration. In other Buddhist traditions, Gotan-e means Shakyamuni Buddha’s birthday celebration. We call the birth day of Shakyamuni “Hanamatsuri”. Therefore, the meaning of Gotan-e depends on each Buddhist tradition.

During Shinran Shonin’s lifetime during the Kamakura period, he wrote more than 500 gathas (Buddhist poems) to provide a better understanding of the Jodo Shinshu teachings for those around him. Most of his gathas belong to the three gatha series which are (1) Gatha series on Jodo Shinshu Teachings and Texts “Jodo Wasan”, (2) Gatha series on Seven Masters in Jodo Shinshu “Koso Wasan”, and (3) Gatha series on Age classifications of Dharma “Sho Zo Matsu Wasan”. Each gatha series contain more than 100 gathas. The most notable of the gathas are appeared in the Gathas series on Jodo Teachings and Texts.

For special services and the monthly memorial service for Shinran Shonin, the Shoshinge is chanted. Generally, the Juseige is chanted during Sunday services and the daily services with Nishi Center students. So, many (including the Nishi Center students) have memorized the phrases of Juseige.

When opening the temple service book, which chanting text or title appears first? It is the Shoshinge. The Shoshinge was written by Shinran Shonin which details the essence of the Jodo Shinshu teachings. As such, the Shoshinge text is generally printed at the very beginning of most Jodo Shinshu service books.

As the Shoshinge is being chanted, but gathas are also being chanted within the Shoshinge. During the Shoshinge, there is a singing portion. A solo voice sings first sentence of the six gathas and everyone follows afterwards. These six gathas are from the Gatha Series on Jodo Teachings and Texts.

At the beginning of my article, I quoted from Shinran Shonin’s Gatha on the Offence of Doubting the Primal Vow which is one of the chapters of the gatha series on Age Classifications of Dharma. Gatha on the Offence of Doubting the Primal Vow consists of 23 individual gathas. These gathas were written, when Shinran Shonin was between 85 to 90 years old after he had experienced the life of nembutsu for 60 years. These 23 gathas express how Shinran Shonin clearly stated, “What is the Jodo Shinshu way of living, and what is not the Jodo Shinshu way of living.”

Since being in the United States as a minister, I began to see that the understanding of the Jodo Shinshu teachings in English differs from that of the teachings in Japanese. I realized that the understanding is different due to individual cultural or religious backgrounds. For instance, what does the term, “compassion”, bring to mind? Those with a Buddhist foundation, will probably think, “Buddhist compassion”. However, if those coming from a non-Buddhist society or believers of another religion would probably think of “God’s compassion,” or, perhaps, of a man on the holy cross.

The English language has influences from Latin and the Christian culture. Therefore, when Buddhism is explained in English, there will likely be influences of the Christian culture in the explanation. For example, what comes to mind when you hear the term, “salvation?”

To prevent any misconceptions, I mindfully use the appropriate vocabulary when speaking of Buddhism. When using a quotation from a secondary source (ie: English translations of Jodo Shinshu texts), I carefully compare and examine the text of English translations with the original documents in Japanese. Otherwise, my dharma talks would sound like Christian sermons.

As previously mentioned, I quoted from the Gatha on the Offence of Doubting the Primal Vow. My version is paraphrasing the gatha, somewhat different from the official translation of the “The Collected Works of Shinran.” My focus is on what Shinran Shonin wanted express in the (continued on page 9)
GOTAN-E SERVICE

BIRTH OF SHINRAN SHONIN

by Rev. Koho Takata

The members of Los Angeles Hompa Hongwanji Buddhist Temple and their families are invited to attend the annual Gotan-e Service, which is one of the six major services in the Hongwanji tradition to be held on Sunday, May 18, 2014. The guest speaker for the service will be Rev. Julie Hanada of the former Betsuin minister for English Service and Rev. Tesshi Aoyama of the BCA Minister Emeritus for Japanese Service.

Gotan-E celebrates the birth of our founder Shinran Shonin who was born on May 21, 1173. Reviewing Shinran Shonin’s life, he did not live a fortunate life filled with happy environmental conditions. Both his parents were gone at an early age and he encountered many hardships throughout his life. But his spiritual experiences which evolved under many trying conditions and in many places, have given the many followers of the Buddha’s Teachings an answer to the purpose of life in this world.

Shinran Shonin spent his simple and modest life of ninety years with no thought of making himself spectacularly prominent and impressive among the people. But millions of nembutsu followers are rejoicing over his way of life through the guidance of Amida Buddha and his teachings. Let us see the true aspect of Shinran Shonin’s Shinjin (true entrusting mind) and live the life of oneness with the strength and conviction through the teachings of the nembutsu.

INFANT PRESENTATION CEREMONY

by Rev. Koho Takata

The Infant Presentation Ceremony (Hatsumairi) will be held in conjunction with the Gotan-e (birth of Shinran Shonin) Service on May 18, 2014.

The term "Infant Presentation Ceremony" means parents formally present their child to the Buddha and the sangha for the first time on this occasion. It will be a precious opportunity for child, parents, and the sangha to re dedicate themselves to walk together in the footsteps of our founder Shinran Shonin and become aware that we are always in oneness with Amida Buddha at all times and in all places in the Infinite Light and Life.

We welcome those parents of children up to the age of one year to take part in the “Infant Presentation Ceremony” to nurture individuals to rejoice in the nembutsu. Children are nurtured by parents and parents, in turn, are fostered by children, and by living in Amida Buddha’s heart we are able to build a nembutsu life actualized by Shinran Shonin.

2014 SURF & TURF UNPRECEDENTED SUCCESS

Surf & Turf Fundraiser 2014 was an unprecedented success having raised over $35,000 while serving over 1,550 dinners. The kaikan was filled with people enjoying their dinners, playing BINGO, checking out the Silent Auction items, having a good time with family and friends. New this year was the drive-through take out service, without which there would not have been enough seating for everyone to sit and enjoy themselves in the kaikan.

Every one of the Betsuin’s organizations, young and old, pitched in to make this event such a success. Organizations provided baked goods for desserts as well as wine and beer for the adults. BINGO games were also available for the children in the Lotus Room downstairs. There were groups who took care of the salads and those who prepared the beef and the fish. Others packed the dinners while there were those who distributed the dinners in the kaikan and out in the parking lot for the drive-through service. The Silent Auction as well as the raffle also had to be organized by a group of people.

What a sight to see everyone working side-by-side like a finely tuned machine, working towards a single goal: to support the Betsuin.

The Betsuin would like to express its appreciation to the temple and affiliate members for their participation in helping to make this Surf and Turf fundraiser such a tremendous success.

The following are the winners of the Surf and Turf raffle:

NEW TEMPLE PROJECT
Hompa Hongwanji Los Angeles Betsuin
Dedication, November 14, 15, and 16, 1969, 815 E. First Street, Los Angeles, California 90012

Several seconds of stunned silence filled the room. A few heads nodded absentely in unison. Betsuin president Keiichiro Sayano was already prepared for what he knew would be a long evening. There was nothing routine about the report just about to be made by Mr. (Tetsujiro) Nakamura.

The agenda that June evening in 1963 had included what ordinarily would have been a routine recommendation for carrying out the first of a series of major repairs to the temple building. Instead, Mr. Nakamura introduced a letter. City Hall was contemplating plans to widen First Street from San Pedro to Alameda. To do so, it would take twenty feet all along the north side of the street. In addition, it was asking for Betsuin remodeling plans if part of the temple was sliced off to accommodate the proposed plan.

The subject of repairs was quickly discarded. Makeshift remodeling ideas were rejected. Slowly the outline of a major project began to take shape—the building of a new temple.

A new temple…but this temple is not old. Some board members could still remember the date it was built. It was Taisho ju-yonen (14), 1925.

925 was 38 years ago. It has been a long time. But during those years, this temple served us well. It filled our inner needs and became the focal point that brought meaning into our lives.

Many of us are gone; but, now, surely our beliefs will survive.

However, 40 years is a long time. Many things have changed. Newer concepts must be formed to meet the newer conditions. Younger men like (Masami) Sasaki-kun, (Keiichiro) Sayano kun, (Eijiu) Sasajima kun, (Kyuji) Hozaki kun…

Tentative recommendations including the need for a trust fund and planning board were drawn up. Meetings were scheduled to hammer out proposals to be presented to the Betsuin members.

ignorant we are. However, I think some people have this opinion because they understand human imperfection only from an ethical or moral perspective. Ignorance and evil in Jodo Shinshu is to be understood in a spiritual context.

Yes, moral guidance is a real and valid concern, but moral guidance must be rooted in the spiritual. In Buddhism the spiritual is our first concern while the moral dimension is secondary. Faced with critical choices of doing good and bad, we choose that which will fulfill our own self-centered needs, even subconsciously.

I think we often feel that being a good person expresses this moral guidance ... that being a good person and feeling good is all they want to be. But in Jodo Shinshu it's not just being a good person or feeling good. The goal of Buddhism is to become "real" by becoming more aware of the true nature of oneself and our human frailties. If our motivation is only to be good people and to feel good, we can easily become self-righteous and bitter when things don't go our way. When we are motivated, however, by a desire for awareness and truth, we often become "good" and find joy as a natural outcome of the process.

To truly see your ignorance, anger, and self-centeredness, is actually liberating. One experiences the freedom in being able to accept our short comings and failings. This process is liberating because one can finally awaken to how one really is, stripped of all pretensions, defenses and self-images.

In Jodo Shinshu, we are truly freed, precisely because we are foolish, not in spite of it. The realization of our foolish and human nature is a very important part of our awakening. “Just as you are,” sonomama, when such a feeling flows through our hearts and minds, then we are overwhelmed with a true sense of joy and gratitude.

gatha instead of the word by word translation. Once again, please read the gatha:

As the marks of not apprehending Buddha’s wisdom:
People doubt the dharma which is known as Universal truth.
People believe in karma such as a good deed brings good fortune and a bad deed brings bad fortune.

People compete with how many times they recite the nembutsu, therefore they are missing the opportunity to be enlightened.

Why do people have difficulties in understanding Buddhism, particularly Jodo Shinshu Buddhism? Shinran Shonin clearly stated in his gatha, religion generally requires you to believe in a conditional truth which is known as a religious truth. Buddhism, on the other hand, does not force you to believe in unconditional truths which is also known as the universal truth. A universal truth itself is an unalterable, permanent fact.

I sometimes hear or see the term kugarma. While I was reading an online thread discussions about car repair, the term karma appeared several times. While I was watching TV, the emcee said, “Oh my god! It’s your karma!” The emcee was was not responding to anything about Buddhism, Christianity, or Hinduism. The term karma has become a part of casual language without any reference to its true meaning. The emcee’s comment was harmless and a funny example of this. However, when you are in midst of hardship and someone says to you, “Because of what you did, your are now suffering this hardship. It is your karma.” How would you react to this statement? Do you curse or blame it all on your fate? You may get temporary relief by cursing or blaming but such actions won’t help to remedy your situation.

Based on the universal truth of dharma, the term karma is pointless and unreasonable. If it were true that good deeds bring good fortune and bad deeds bring bad fortune, as a minister, I should be billionaire by now! (Yes, I get my Mega Million lottery ticket twice a week.) Therefore, karma is simply based on superstition. Shinran Shonin clearly stated that if we live a life of superstitions such as karma, there will be no chance of becoming enlightened.

Lastly, there should be no concern as to the number of times we recite the nembutsu. In the gatha quotation, Shinran Shonin emphasizes that the recitation of the nembutsu is not for any benefit, gaining merit, nor for competition.
