NEW YEAR’S GREETING
Immeasurable Light and Life

Reciting the Nembutsu, we welcome the new year. I express my warmest greetings to you. Following the East Japan Great Earthquake, one year and ten months has passed. More than a hundred thousand people continue to live in evacuation center housing, unable to return to their homes. Personally, I find the events of the Seven Hundred Fiftieth Memorial for Shinran Shonin and East Japan Great Earthquake to be inseparable.

I am sure that each person directly affected by the natural disaster has his or her own sufferings and is being faced with various problems and tasks. It goes without saying that support and recovery efforts are important. However, with this as an opportune time, as a fellow earthly being, I would also like to reflect on the fundamental issues we all have in common. What we need to reconsider is how we have easily come to accept our common values and ways of perceiving things, regardless of whether we are conscious of it or not. For example, there is the notion that development in science technology and economic competition increases happiness. Although technological advancements and economic strength may be immediate solutions for simple issues at hand, stopping there can result in something else becoming overlooked. That is our infinite humanly cravings, our limited intelligence, and our lack of harmony with the greater nature. This is an issue that is deeply connected with Buddhism.

The beauty of Mt. Fuji and other mountains and valleys are all results of volcanic activity and earthquakes. Although nuclear energy may appear to be an efficient prescription for the immediate situation, not only does it become a problem when an accident occurs, but with our current technological skills, we are unable to safely dispose of radioactive wastes. We cannot simply pick and choose just what is convenient nor do we have the power to control nature. It is my hope that the measures we take will not simply end up as temporary solutions. But rather, they will help to make a positive change in our social values and reflect on our own standards and realize a sustainable society.

Happy New Year! May the Infinite Light of Life of Amida Buddha awaken in each of us a fresh sense of joy for being able to welcome into our lives a brand new year.

Thank you for the friendship, understanding and support so many of you have extended to me not only during past year but also throughout the past 4 years at Nishi Betsuin. My family and I look forward to new year(s) with diligence and open mindedness. To begin a New Year in a familiar way, I wish to Gassho, Namoamidabutsu, then, Kanpaaaai!

New Year is an opportune time to recall time tested old stories. Buddhism has at least thousand of these stories and here is one of my favorite story related by Shakyamuni Buddha.

Once upon a time there was a wise and kind doctor with many sons. One day, after father leaving home on business, sons drank some poison that they found in the house. Returning home just in time, the father found his boys writhing on the floor, sick from the poison. Some almost fatal, some not yet seriously affected.

Seeing that the father had come back, boys were very happy and begged him to cure them of the poison. The doctor father, after diagnosing the situation, prepared an appropriate medicine and urged sons to take it. The boys who had been least affected by the poison immediately took the medicine and were cured, but others in worse shape, refused to take it.

The wise father, realizing what was happening, decided to think of a way to have the sicker boys take the medicine. He told boys that he was getting so old and would soon pass away and that he would be leaving home for good, leaving the prescribed medicine for the boys.

The father left, sending back a messenger with the news that the father had died. The sons, hearing that their father had passed away, felt sad, deserted and helpless, grieved “If our father were alive he would have been kind to us and helped us. But now he has abandoned us and made as orphans with no one to rely on.” The grief made them long for their father, and coming to their senses, took the medicine and were cured. Hearing that his sons had recovered, the father returned to his home.

The interpretation of the above story: The doctor father represents the Buddha, and his supposed passing away is likened to the Shakyamuni Buddha’s entry into Nirvana, his human death. The historical Buddha’s passing and entry into Nirvana is to get people’s attention to be aware of the Universal or Infinite Buddha of Light and Life, so, in effect, people would take greater responsibility for their own lives and take needed Dharma medicines that is given at any time and place so long as the medicine is desired.

It also means that the Buddha medicine needs to be individualized with respect to individual differences, and effectiveness. The prescribed medicine is not a medicine until the ill one takes the medicine. The same is true of the Buddha-Dharma. It has to be taken, has to become real nourishment for spiritual growth, in order to be effective. The Dharma is not the Dharma until it is received and embraced wholeheartedly. That is why the Dharma is told in variety of ways, using thousands of ways and stories, again and again, until each illness is cured.

One may argue that no wise and kind father leaves poison in the house. The point is well taken, but the intent of the story is rather than creating such dangerous condition, the father has inherited such condition and responds immediately with more effort as a medicine provider.

The father returns home after the sons have recovered by taking medicine, the Dharma. It means that we are able to see the Buddha again and again because Buddha returns time and again in order to help. Or, to incorporate the Buddha-Dharma into one’s life is to be able to see the Buddha of Infinite Light and Life. Buddha can be found whenever and wherever we look for him. Buddha’s purpose is to guide the living to enter the unsurpassed way and quickly take on the body of a Buddha. Buddha is always seeking to make Buddha out of each of us.

To take Buddha’s Dharma medicine or not is person’s own decision. The medicine is available.

So, just answer Hotokesan with, “Hai, Sumimasen, Nam-mandab!”

“Akemashite Omedeto Gozaimasu.”

In Gassho; Rev. Hiroshi Abiko
Before retiring from my last career and going into the ministry, our family on every New Year morning, for as far back as I can remember would visit my aunt’s house for menudo … unfortunately I haven’t been home to celebrate the New Year for the past 20 years. However, my children now look forward to partake in the New Year Day festivities of menudo and I’m sure my grandsons, Malik and Tyson will one day make this part of his New Years tradition.

I’m sure many of you have your own New Year traditions of visiting your grandparents or relatives house for osechi. As we revisit the activities and traditions of celebrations past, it is the family experiencing historical continuity that keeps us in touch with the present, past and future.

We also have a tradition at the Betsuin, after our New Year’s Eve service and again after our New Year Day service our member’s line up to ring the bonsho, the large bell in the front of the temple. Traditionally, the bell is struck 108 times. Thus symbolizing the 108 characteristics of our human nature also known as bonno. Contrary to holiday articles in newspapers, the striking of the bell does not rid ourselves of these 108 blind passions, rather it is a reminder of who we truly are.

Shinran taught us that as long as we are so preoccupied with our 108 passions, we will never understand the intention of the Primal Vow of Amida Buddha. Only when we come to our own realization on how truly limited we are as humans and come face to face to our true nature of ignorance, do we come to rely on Amida completely.

To truly see our ignorance, anger, and self-centeredness, to see our 108 passions, is actually liberating. This process is liberating because one can finally awaken to our true self.

In Jodo Shinshu, we are truly freed because we are foolish, not in spite of it. The realization of our foolish and human nature is a very important part of our awakening.

As the year 2012 comes to a close, Nobuko and I would like to wish you and your family a very meaningful and fulfilling 2013. I would also like to express my sincerest appreciation and gratitude to all of you for making this past year a most valuable and rewarding experience. To be able to share the Nembutsu Teaching with you has been a truly wonderful experience for me.

I would especially like to thank Rimban Hiroshi Abiko for his continued guidance and patience throughout the year, despite our busy schedule. I’d also like to express my heartfelt welcome to Rev. Kaz Nakata and his family. I truly appreciate Rev. Nakata’s expertise and enthusiasm that he brings to the Betsuin as well as his lovely family, his wife, Michiko and two children, Kanon and Michilu. It’s truly a joy to see his children enjoying their visits to the temple. Many thanks to our office staff, Toshiko Sugiyama and Rei Fujii for all their hard work to keep the temple running so smoothly. And to all our volunteers … words cannot express my sincerest gratitude and appreciation to our temple volunteers for their personal time they have dedicated to Betsuin. Let us continue to work together in 2013 to make Betsuin a conducive environment to hear the Nembutsu Teachings.

May gratitude and appreciation enter your life as you awaken to the Nembutsu Teachings.

BWA OBSERVES KISARAGI-KI

During the month of February, Buddhist Women’s Association (BWA) groups throughout Japan and BCA observes the memorial of Lady Takeko Kujo (Kisaragi-ki). Lady Kujo was influential in the establishment of the the Fujinkai (BWA).

Lady Kujo, who was born as the second daughter of the 21st Monshu of Hongwanji, Myonyo Shonin, was a devout Nembutsu follower who took an active part in community service. She was the founder of the Kyoto Joshi Gakuen (Kyoto Women’s Schools) and known for her poetry. Lady Kujo passed away in 1928 at the age of 42.

Like Shinran Shonin, Lady Kujo had a broad spiritual outlook, viewing the wonder of the universe. At the same time, she was aware of the very evil that inhabits our own minds and gives Shin Buddhism its distinctive character. She was also an independent spirit and provides a modern example of a spiritually-grounded, independent woman.
A Happy New Year everyone!

Some of you may know that… in Japanese, people say, “Akemashite Omedeto Gozaimasu.” In Chinese, people say, “Shing Nieng Kwai La.” And in Spanish, people say, “¡Feliz año nuevo!”

I’ve been enjoying my ministry at Nishi Betsuin since July of 2012. I assume that you received this Jiho temple news letter before January. So I would like to write about New Year’s Eve this time.

We normally have our Betsuin Sunday services at 10:00 AM. Once a year, I say “Good evening everyone” at the year-end service. In our Buddhist tradition, we call the service Joya-e. At our Nishi Betsuin, the service starts from 6:00 PM. But, originally Joya was a gathering from 12:00 midnight of January 1st to sunrise of January 1st.

So, other Mahayana Buddhists like… Koyasan esoteric Buddhists, Tien-tai Buddhists and Zen Buddhists officiate their Joya-e service at midnight, usually from 11:00 PM on December 31st.

But in our Jodo Shinshu, we do not have to have the Joya-e service at midnight, so we officiate our Joya-e service from 6:00 PM and our mother temple Hongwanji, Kyoto Japan officiate their Joya-e service from 3:00 PM.

Do you know why we gather at temple on New Year’s Eve? Sure, we can say Joya-e as New Year’s Eve service. But the term “Joya-e” reminds us one of very important Buddhist teachings and practices. So, I would like to explain the meaning of the Joya-e.

“E” means “gathering”. The word of Joya consists of two Japanese kanji characters. Jo = 除 and Ya = 夜. “Jo” means “reset”, “wipe out” or “clean up”. “Ya” means “night”. So, Joya means “let us try to refresh our minds on New Year’s Eve, and prepare to welcome the New Year with a fresh mind”, or simply we can say Joya-e is a night gathering for reflection.

In everyday life, we often say, “Oh, I’m busy!” While we are busy, we really do not have time to look back at what we did in the past. So Joya-e was designed for each individual to reflect on the passing year.

I am sure that most of us had some complaints (monku), sadness, difficulties and worries in 2012. We should not bring them into the New Year. I am also sure that most of us had occasions of happiness and pleasure in 2012. We should not carry them into the New Year, as well.

As we teach in Buddhism, everyday is a new day, so every year is a new year. What happened in 2012 does not always reflect what is going to happen in 2013. Our life is not as simple as we think it is. So we observe Joya-e gatherings to reset and refresh our minds for welcoming the New Year. I hope you will join our very meaningful Joya-e service.

Lastly, I would like to thank you for your help and support for all of the Nishi Betsuin activities in 2012 and I would like to have your continuous support at the Nishi Betsuin in 2013.

BETSUIN BOARD PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

by Lonny Quon

As we approach the end of 2012, I would like to express my deepest appreciation for your support to our Betsuin this past year. Moving forward to 2013, I sincerely ask for your continued help to build and strengthen our temple for the future.

I want to thank our ministerial staff, Rimban Hiroshi Abiko, Rev. William Briones, and Rev. Kazuaki Nakata for dedicating their time and devotion to our members and community. Under the guidance of Rimban Abiko, our ministerial staff had met the many demands of our temple’s religious services, programs, events, activities and meetings of our organizations.

I also want to thank our Komon, members of the Board of Directors, and our Board of Trustees for their support and guidance. Special thanks to our office staff and the many volunteers for their assistance in meeting the daily administrative tasks and routines of our temple.

Finally, I want to thank our branch temples, affiliated organizations, maintenance and Kohaku committees for their support and help with temple programs, events, fundraisers and facility maintenance. This past year’s Kohaku Utagassen, Surf & Turf, Temple Yard Sale, and Obon Festival were all very successful. Please continue to help us improve and expand these events.

As I complete my first year as board president, I am truly grateful to all the mentors I had helping me with the programs and events at the temple. I appreciate everyone’s patience with my mistakes and lack of knowledge on many temple routines and religious traditions. I ask for your continued advice and guidance in 2013. The Betsuin will continue to be a special place for our members and the community. Domo arigato.

Lonny Quon, Board President

NISHI CENTER NEWS

by Elaine Fukumoto

With the beginning of the new school year in September, a new group of children started their lives at Nishi Center. Following some tears and adjustments, the new students have settled into the routine.

The first event for the Nishi Center students was the annual field trip to the KidSpace Children’s Museum. There, students and staff enjoyed discovering, learning, and exploring the hands-on exhibits.

The next event, a very popular one, was Halloween. The Nishi Center students and staff (and some parents) dressed in a variety of costumes and trick-or-treated at the various doors at the temple. The students went home with huge grocery bags filled with treats (non-candy).

An annual event held in November is Stone Soup Day. The lesson in sharing with others starts with hearing stories of the well-known French folktale, “Stone Soup.” The students, then each volunteered to bring a food item to put into their classroom’s pot of soup with a stone in it. During lunch, the students and teachers in each of the three classrooms put their hands together in gassho and recited, “itadakimasu” and then partook in their bowls of soup. To note, each of the students made their own ceramic bowls in the Art Class taught by Setsuko Takemura.

In between the special events at Nishi Center are the Library Walks that each class participates in at least once a month. The Little Tokyo Branch Library is located on 2nd and Los Angeles Street and the students either walk or take the DASH bus. At the library, the children’s librarian treats the children to special stories and activities and sometimes special programs, such as puppet shows and music programs.

Betsuin JIHO, Jan. 1, 1960,

“KALMUK (Kalmuck) BUDDHISTS OF RUSSIA”

The Soviet Union celebrated last month the 350th anniversary of what is officially termed the “voluntary union of the Kalmuk people with Russia.”

The Kalmuks, who remain the only Buddhist race in Europe, are of Mongolian origin. Today there are some 140,000 of them, living in the plains north-west of the Caspian Sea.

Once known as the Oiraty, they eked out a nomadic existence in northern China and, in the latter half of the 16th century, embarked on a mass trek westward.

They eventually found a settlement on the banks of the Volga, and in August, 1909, entered into union with the Russians. The anniversary celebrations took place on August 22 and 23.

In 1943, when the USSR was being steadily overrun by the Nazi invaders, the entire Kalmuk population was deported forcefully and without prior notice, to Siberia on the orders of Stalin.

It was not until February, 1957, that a decree was passed permitting the return of the exiles to their homeland and it was in July last year that the Kalmuk Autonomous Republic was proclaimed.

“Hai-Ku” (Poem by Bassho)

Furu ike ya 古池や
Kawazu tobikomu 蛙とび混む

Ah! The old pond--
And the sound of the water
As the frog plunges in!

This celebrated poem evokes beautifully the garden of a Japanese monastery with its calm old pond, the silence of which is only broken, from time to time, by the plunging of a frog.

A SOUTHERN DISTRICT GATHERING FOR HOONKO SERVICE

by Rev. William Briones

“On Sunday, January 20 the Los Angeles Betsuin will host a combined Southern District gathering to commemorate Shinran Shonin’s memorial, Hoonko. Sponsored by the Southern District Buddhist Education Committee and the Southern District Ministers Association, the gathering will include all 15 southern district temple sanghas.

The gathering will begin at 10:00 AM in the hondo, chanting the Shoshinge, and wasan (literally means ‘Japanese (wa) hymn or words of praise (san)’ in the formal style (gyofu)). Although the chanting of Shoshinge and Wasan is the traditional service within both Nishi and Higashi, the morning service will introduce an innovative format that was inspired by Rev. Mas Kodani. After the service, the group will break into groups for Dharma messages. Rev. Tetsuo Unno will give a message in English, Rev. George Matsubayashi in Japan-ese and for the children, Rev. Kazuaki Nakata.

After the Dharma messages, we will break for lunch. Lunch will be on your own. Attendees are encouraged to support the Little Tokyo eateries. Little Tokyo is one of the three official Japan-towns in the United States and a National Historic Land-mark District. However, if you would rather not make the journey into Little Tokyo, mini bento can be pre-ordered through your affiliated organization or you may contact the office at (213) 680-9130.

Following the lunch period, attendees will reassemble in the Betsuin Kaikan for the Arpana-Kinnara Dance Concert. The afternoon concert will mainly feature the Arpana Dance Company, a dance tradition from South India called Bhaarata Natyam.

Newly ordained priests from overseas take on new responsibility of spreading the Dharma

On September 15, fifteen Nembutsu followers from Buddhist Churches of America (BCA, North America), Jodo Shinshu Buddhist Temples of Canada, and affiliates in Germany and the U.K. of the Hongwanji European regional district took part in the Tokudo* ordination ceremony formally becoming ordained as Jodo Shinshu priests.

A candidate from Canada together with candidates from Europe joined the Japanese Tokudo training session which began on September 6. Lectures on rituals and liturgy, and the history and teaching of Jodo Shinshu were among the topics of study.

Beginning last year, candidates from North America and Canada completed 3 requisite seminar sessions as part of an independent program conducted by the Jodo Shinshu Center (Berkeley, California, U.S.A) with seminar sessions focusing on the history and teaching of Jodo Shinshu. The candidates joined the training session at Nishiyama Betsuin (Kyoto, Japan) from the seventh day of the 11-day program and received intensive training on chanting (liturgy) and rituals. After successfully completing the training program, all fifteen candidates from overseas were among the ninety candidates who took part in the September Tokudo ordination ceremony which commenced at the Goeido (Founder’s Hall) at Hongwanji (Kyoto, Japan).

David Pating (53), a candidate from BCA, has been a member of the Buddhist Church of San Francisco for 25 years as a devout listener of the Dharma and currently serves as the temple president while also contributing to the temple as a minister’s assistant.

“It was difficult in memorizing the Ryogemon [in Japanese], which is recited during the Tokudo ceremony. However, in reading the English translation, I realized just how deep and meaningful the words were. From now on, I hope to truly live the meaning of the Ryogemon,” shared Pating.

From Germany, Ilona Evers (57) commented, “I am coming to Japan for the first time, to become ordained in the Jodo Shinshu tradition. It [the session] was a difficult yet invaluable experience and I also had the opportunity to encounter the warmth of the people of Japan.”

For the past sixteen years, Evers has been opening up her Berlin home each week to conduct Dharma study gatherings to which 4 or 5 others have been attending regularly.

“I’ve studied various Buddhist sects, but there has not been a teaching that has touched me as much as the teaching of Shinran Shonin. It is like the feeling of comfort that one gets when returning home. I am glad to have encountered the Shinshu teaching,” expresses Evers.

(Excerpt from Hongwanji Journal, October 10, 2012)

* Tokudo: is an initial ordination, the first formal step of training to become a Jodo Shinshu priest. It is a religious rite that consists of adorations, recitation of the Three Refuges, the Jodo Shinshu Creed, tonsure (shaving of the head), receiving of the kesa, and homyo (Buddhist name).

In December of 2011, the Kinnara Taiko and Gagaku group joined with the Arpana Dance Company to give three Tsunami Relief Benefit concerts in Hiroshima, Kure, and Nara, Japan. Sponsored by three Jodo Shinshu temples in Japan, the company was able to raise approximately $20,000. Both Kinnara and Arpana are made up of second and third generation Japanese-Amer-icans and Indian-Americans, who share a common interest in their own traditional culture.

This is a wonderful opportunity to see another Asian tradition significantly different from western traditions and how it adapts to western cultures. The concert is free to the sangha and is approximately 1 ½ hours.
“WHITE ASHES”
HAKKOTSU NO GOBUNSHO

This letter by Rennyo Shonin is usually read by the min-ister at Jodo Shinshu funeral services.

When I deeply contemplate the transient nature of human life, I realize that, from beginning to end, life is imperma-nent like an illusion. We have not yet heard of anyone who lived ten thousand years. How fleeting is a lifetime!

Who in this world today can maintain a human form for even a hundred years? There is no knowing whether I will die first or others, whether death will occur today or to-morrow. We depart one after another more quickly than the dewdrops on the roots or the tips of the blades of grasses. So it is said. Hence, we may have radiant faces in the morning, but by evening we may turn into white ashes.

Once the winds of impermanence have blown, our eyes are instantly closed and our breath stops forever. Then, our radiant face changes its color, and the attractive coun-tenance like peach and plum blossoms is lost. Family and relatives will gather and grieve, but all to no avail?

Since there is nothing else that can be done, they carry the deceased out to the fields, and then what is left after the body has been cremated and has turned into the mid-night smoke is just white ashes. Words fail to describe the sadness of it all.

Thus the ephemeral nature of human existence is such that death comes to young and old alike without discrimina-tion. So we should all quickly take to heart the matter of the greatest importance of the afterlife, entrust our-selves deeply to Amida Buddha, and recite the nembutsu. Humbly and respectfully.
